I think Doug would be a good choice, as well as Deblyn. I haven't really worked with Adam, but I'm sure he'd be fine too. I just don't know what their schedules/priorities are. I could make some time today to talk about this if we have to send our thoughts with Lew.

I understand completely -- I'm just trying to figure out whether it's going to be possible for us to have someone there in addition to Lew, as he doesn't have the benefit of having worked on our staff in a more "regular" capacity and thus is still learning things about recovery, candidate conservation, etc.

Can you think of others on the ES staff who might be suitable choices? Julie Moore will be out until Wednesday and she and I are scrambling to get several time-sensitive things done, and I also have the Chief's mini-retreat on Thursday afternoon -- so she and I are not good candidates for this. Karen is a possibility, but she thinks (and I agree) that having someone with field office experience might be a better fit. We were thinking that Doug Krofta might be a good choice in the event that no one from Recovery is available (which you've confirmed is the case). He's worked in a field office as well as here, and probably has a good sense of the types of research information that would be needed for various FWS purposes, including recovery planning. Adam also came to mind. At a minimum, we could give Lew our thoughts and leave it to him to cover this, but I don't think that's the best option and I think he'd agree, as he's still learning a lot about ES. What do you think, Krishna?

Nancy-

I also looked at the agenda. While I agree that there are items of interest for us, it is just not possible for us to send someone, especially for multiple days. Here is why:

Next Thursday is my last day, and I am desperately trying to get multiple things done before then, so I can't go.

Debby is out on Wed, as well as busy with multiple other engagements, so she can't go.

Martha is on detail, she can't go

Mary is about to be up to her eyeballs in bald eagle rule processing, she can't go.

Elena is also about to be out of the office for 1 1/2 weeks, is so swamped with trying to get multiple things done, and has a conference call on grizzly bear issues on Wed that is crucial, she can't go.

Kelly is working with Chris on PART and me on GPRA/Recovery Data Call things that we need to coordinate with Linda on next week before I leave, as well as multiple 90-day petition findings and rules. She can't go.

This is what I took into consideration when I told Lew and Claire yesterday that we couldn't send anyone. If we had know about this prior to yesterday, we could have maybe shifted some things around, but since we didn't we are caught short.

Karen and I talked with Lew this morning and looked at the list of papers being given at the conference sessions. We also have additional information from Lew about the focus of the session at the end of the conference, next Thursday afternoon, which he refers to in his initial e-mail (bottom of this string). Lew tells us that DOD has chosen 10 species they'll be focusing on in the coming year or so -- all are listed species.

Gary Fraser can't be there, and neither can Deblyn Mead (who chairs our ES science group). Per your e-mail, I know you are short-handed in Recovery (so are we!), but based on our discussion with Lew it seems like someone from the ES staff should be attending the conference (or at least attending on Wednesday and Thursday) in addition to Lew. I think that someone from Recovery would make the most sense -- even though they'd need to be able to address the whole ES program perspective in the Thursday afternoon session. Another thought is to see if Doug Krofta has the time/interest.

Lew would like to come to closure today, if possible, on who (if anyone) can attend, as he's out tomorrow.

Your thoughts on this with regard to someone from Recovery participating, if only for Wed and Thursday?

I've asked Karen about attending, particularly for the Thursday discussion on research needs. If possible, I'd like her to also attend on Wednesday to have a better sense of what this is all about so that input she provides on Thursday would be more targeted and helpful. Krishna's note to Lew earlier indicated she doesn't expect anyone from Recovery to attend. I agree that we ought to have at least one person in addition to Lew attend the session on Thursday, in particular. Marj also would be excellent -- but Marj and I (and you) all have the mini-retreat the afternoon of June 9.

Nancy,
Any interest in going or sending staff? It's a shame that more folks from WO ES aren't signed up. Lew is our only rep so far...I'm thinking of going up for the plenary Tuesday morning.

thanks.

Lew -

This is the 1st I've heard of it. As far as I know, no one from Recovery is planning/will be able to attend - we are pretty short handed.

ALL,
Does your branch plan to send anyone to this technical symposium and workshop., 7-9 June in Baltimore?

Uniquely, there is an analysis and planning session at the conclusion of the third day where a group will try to determine, among other things, where the gaps exist in research for TER-S impacting military and adjacent lands.

Please let me know.

Thanks,
Lew
