It builds upon foundational courses (IS-100 and IS-200) and prepares participants to manage emergency incidents or planned events at a Type 3 level, which typically involve multiple operational periods and require a more complex organizational structure.

All participants will receive a course completion from the Inter Tribal Council of Arizona

To receive a certificate from AZ DEMA see the information below:

These will be certificate only classes, any attendee wishing to get DEMA issued G300 certificates must register through Acadis.
(dematraining.az.gov)

Only individuals enrolled (with prerequisite documentation submitted IS700, IS800, IS100, IS200 certificates from FEMA) and approved through Acadis will receive credit and completion certificates from DEMA. If someone who audits the class happens to change their mind later and requests a certificate, DEMA will not be able to issue a certificate to them.
